MESSAGE

In this era of rapidly changing technologies especially that of Information & Communication Technology whose sole objective is to make information readily available through internet, e-mail, etc. I am happy to know that Krishi Vigyan Kendra, South Tripura launching its website "<http://www.kvksouthtripura.org.in>" which provides information on KVK's activities & services, agriculture technology demonstration, district profile, crop production & market information, important linkages with ICAR and other related organisation etc.

I am sure that it will be of great use to the farmers, extension workers, rural youth and district agriculture officials. I compliment Dr. A.K. Singh, Programme Coordinator and his team for this effort in launching this websites.

My best wishes for all success to KVK-South Tripura.
